

Administrative Professionals Week

WHEREAS, administrative professionals play an essential role in coordinating the office operations of businesses, educational institutions, and other organizations; and

WHEREAS, the work of administrative professionals requires advanced knowledge and expertise in communications, computer software, office technology, project management, organization, customer service, and other vital office management responsibilities; and

WHEREAS, Administrative Professionals Week is observed annually in workplaces around the world to recognize the important contributions of administrative support staff and is sponsored by the International Association of Administrative Professionals (IAAP); and

WHEREAS, the theme of Administrative Professionals Week 2007 is "Shaping the Future," reflecting how today's career-minded administrative professionals are handling increasingly advanced roles and looking toward the future by recognizing the importance of life-long learning.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Elaine M. Scruggs, Mayor of the city of Glendale, Arizona, on behalf of the City Council, do hereby proclaim April 22-28, 2007, as and Wednesday, April 25, 2007 as Administrative Professionals Day, saluting the valuable contributions of administrative professionals in the workplace. And I call upon all employees to support continued training and development for administrative staff, recognizing that a well-trained workforce is essential for success in today's business world.

In Witness Thereof, I have hereunto set my hand this 23rd day of April 2007.
