NEW YEAR, NEW RESTAURANT AT GLENDALE AIRPORT

GLENDALE, Ariz. – The Glendale Municipal Airport is starting off the new year with a new restaurant for pilots, staff and visitors to enjoy while at the facility. The new restaurant, called Left Seat West, opened Jan. 2.

Left Seat West will be open daily from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m., offering a breakfast and lunch menu, with items ranging in price from $4.50 to $8.95. On Fridays, the restaurant will offer a special fish fry and remain open into the evening hours based on customer demand.

Left Seat West proprietor Ron Zamenski and his wife Karen previously owned The Left Seat, located at Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport for several years, but decided to relocate to the Glendale area.

Located just five miles west of downtown Glendale, five miles east of Luke Air Force Base, and 30 minutes northwest of downtown Phoenix, Glendale's 477-acre modern airport features a beautifully designed two-story, 18,000 square-foot terminal, a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Contract control tower, and complete airport services for general aviation and corporate jet traffic.

For more information on the restaurant, call 623-877-2208, or visit www.leftseatrestaurant.com. For more information on the Glendale Municipal Airport, visit www.glendaleaz.com/airport.
