

Annual Report 2008

Glendale Police Department

I am pleased to present the Glendale Police Department 2008 Annual Report. During the past year, like everyone else, we have felt the effects of the continuing economic turmoil. Tightened budgets, a hiring freeze, furloughs, early retirements and other consequences of the sagging economy necessitated significant adjustments to police programs. Department leadership work diligently to devise more efficient operational methods to maintain proper service levels for police services. In this publication we provide a glimpse of the department accomplishments for the year and the cadre of professional and dedicated people whose profound efforts help to make Glendale a city of which we all can be proud.

The police department was recently restructured to make it a more effective and efficient organization in its goal of addressing community needs and better positioned to serve the community in the future. An Executive Assistant Chief assignment was created and has assumed responsibility and control over more of the day-to-day operations of the department. This change has afforded the Chief of Police greater opportunity for community outreach and closer working relationship with other city leaders on common issues. The existing functional divisions have been split between the remaining Assistant Chief and the Assistant Director.

In what was possibly the largest event ever held in the City of Glendale, the 2008 Super Bowl XLII imposed the enormous dedication of city resources and the cooperation of other cities and law enforcement agencies across the valley. Community needs, however, do not take a holiday during such a monumental event. I am proud of the community and our police professionals that rose to the challenge and persevered regardless.

Along with new mission, vision and value statements the Police Department in 2007 implemented a multifaceted program of Strategies for a Safer City. With an overall goal of reducing crime by 10%, six specific activities were identified as necessary to reach this goal; focusing on repeat offenders; utilizing effective tactics and ensuring the proper existing resources; reducing visible signs of disorder; increasing traffic safety; increasing public outreach and involvement; and enhancing the information infrastructure to properly support enforcement efforts.

The program continued into 2008 and enabled us to achieve an almost 15% reduction in violent crime. Aggravated assaults are down by a dramatic 26%. Robbery and rape were still up as compared to 2007, and they represent a continuing focus and challenge for our department and our community. We are proud of such an achievement, however, more work remains as we continue towards our crime reduction goal.

Engaging the community in policing efforts and promoting communication is vital to any effort to control crime and improve the life to our citizens. Citizen advisory committees and community crime forums continue to help reinforce the department's relationship with the community. The committees provide vital information for shaping the department's priorities and enhancing the quality and effectiveness of police services.

Vision

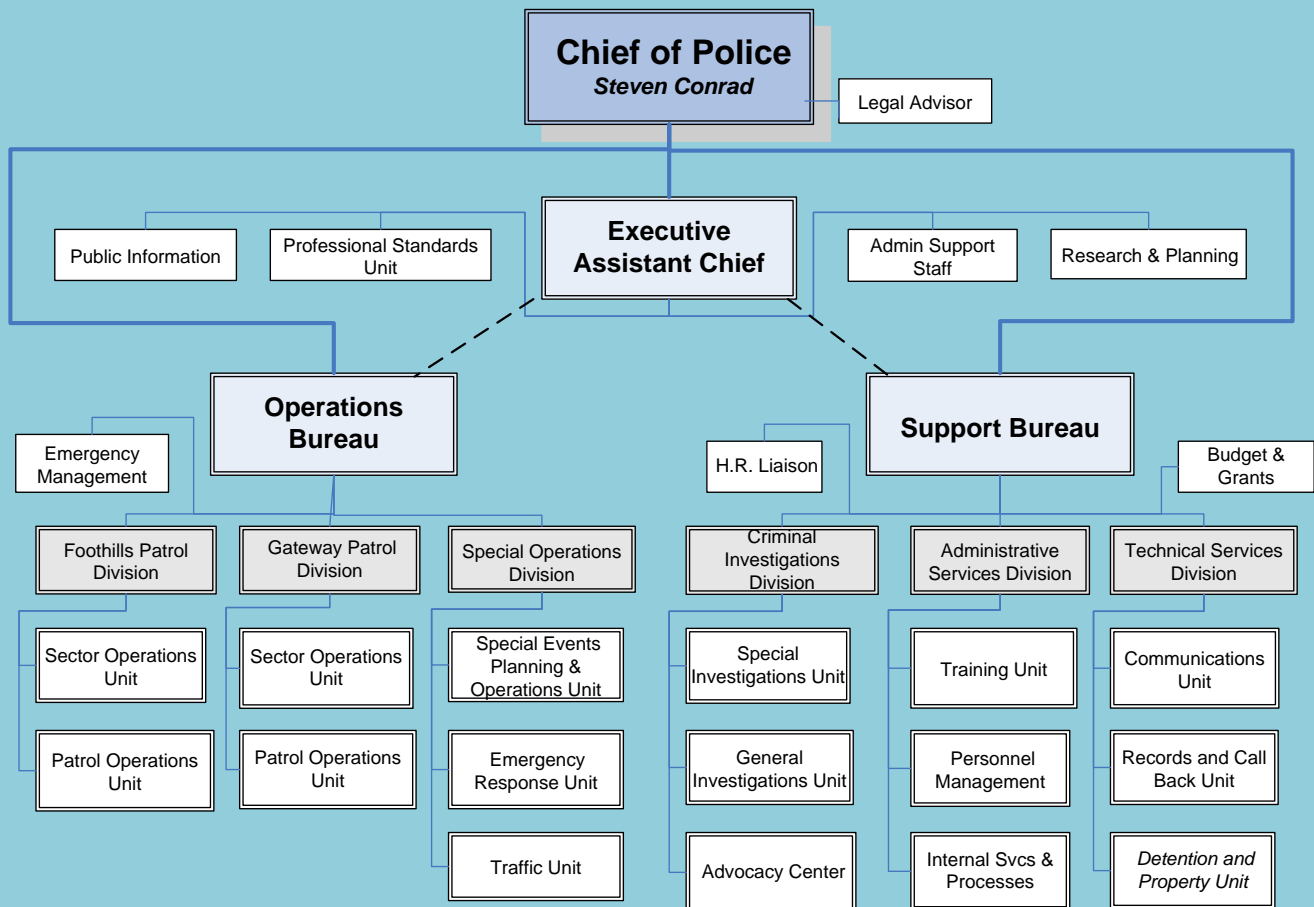

During an era of unprecedented growth and development, the Glendale Police Department will focus on preventing crime and maintaining order, while supporting numerous major events.

We recognize the importance of our employees in meeting the challenges of the future. Our growing organization will emphasize the development of professional knowledge and leadership skills within our ranks. We will recruit exemplary men and women who reflect our community. We embrace a progressive mindset that encourages one and all to seek innovative techniques and emerging technologies in order to accomplish our mission.

Community participation in formulating police strategies will be encouraged. Our common goal will be to provide the most effective possible response to law enforcement emergencies, neighborhood problems and the enforcement of traffic laws, ensuring that Glendale continues to be a desirable place to live, raise a family, educate, recreate and do business.

Everything that we do, collectively or individually, will be done in accordance with our values and objectives.

Violent Crime

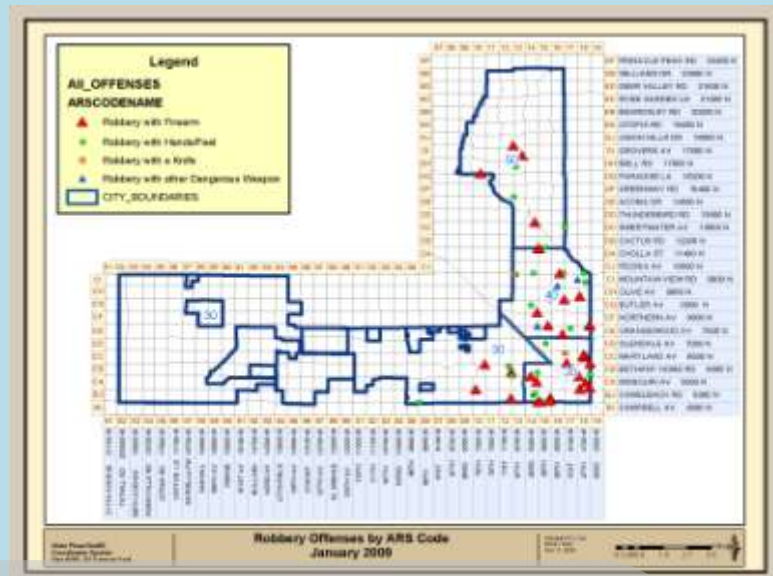

Crime Control

Violent crime was down in Glendale by almost 15% as compared to 2007. A significant reduction in aggravated assaults, which were down over 28%, was responsible for the decrease in violent crime. Property crime was up about 5%. This increase was driven completely by an increase in thefts, which were up over 20% in 2008 compared to 2007. Burglaries were down over 4% and auto thefts were down almost 22%. Overall, crime was up about 3% in 2008.

Property Crime

Focus on Crime

Timely and accurate information regarding crime in our city is routinely shared through a series of regular meetings to ensure that resources are focused where they need to be to prevent and control crime. On a biweekly basis, the Patrol Divisions meet to review crime information specific to their geographic area of responsibility. These meetings, which rely heavily on crime analysis and crime mapping, allow the Patrol Division commanders to focus efforts on targeted crime reduction efforts, quality of life issues and on managing personnel and resources within their control. Also once a week, the Command staff meets with staff from Patrol, Investigations, and several support units to discuss crime trends and patterns, hot spots and problem areas. The purpose of these weekly meetings is to ensure that critical information is shared between the different divisions and to allocate resources as needed to address immediate concerns. Finally, once a month, both of the Patrol Divisions, Criminal Investigations Division, Traffic Unit, Crime Analysts and Command Staff meet to recap and to share successful crime reduction tactics, evaluate the effectiveness and discuss current crime issues.

Fiesta Bowl and Super Bowl

The Glendale Police Department, working in cooperation with other city departments and a number of law enforcement agencies from across the valley, developed and successfully implemented incident action plans that dictated our efforts during the Fiesta Bowl and Super Bowl XLII. The approach used to provide for public safety at Super Bowl is being touted by NFL Security as a national model.

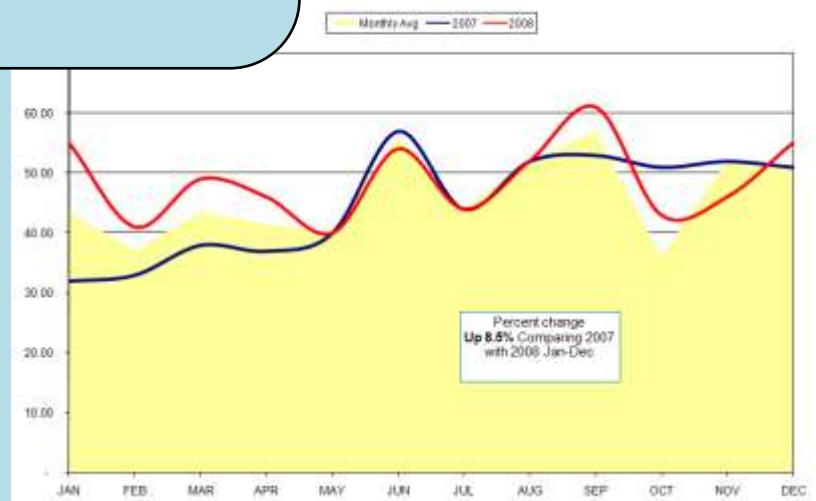

Dedicated Robbery Squad

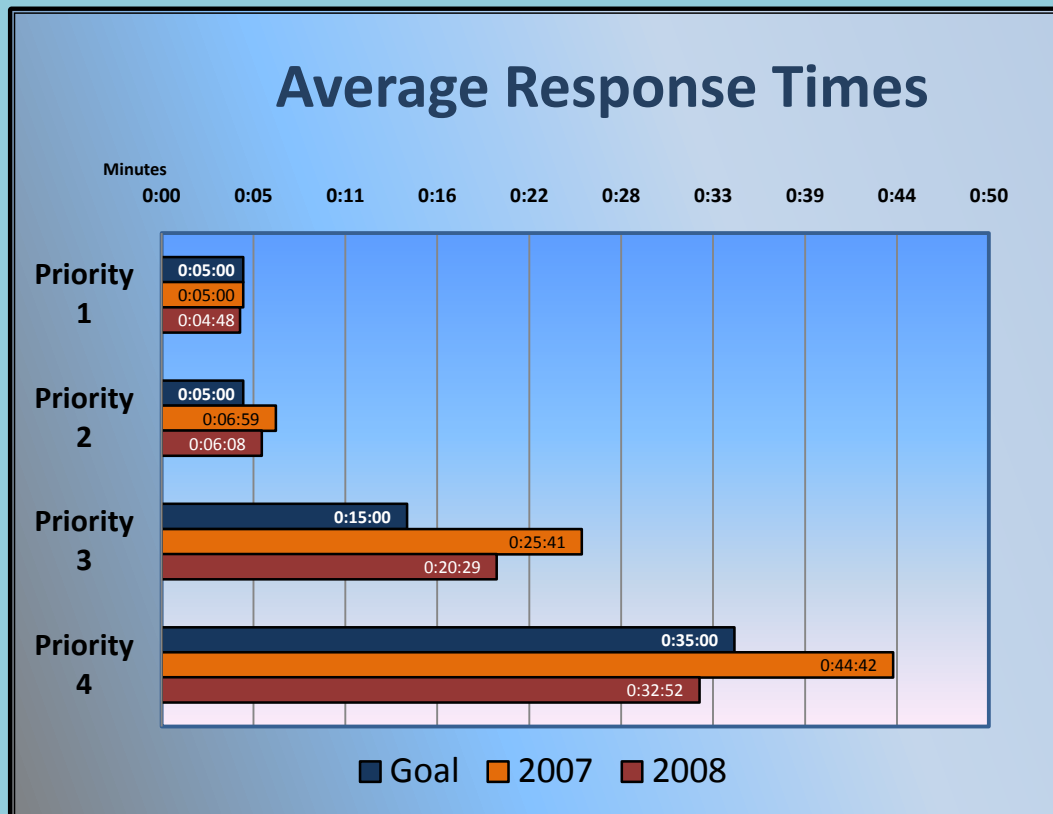

Like other cities in the valley, Glendale had a drastic increase in robberies (primarily street robberies). Historically, robbery detectives were part of the Violent Crimes Squad and would investigate robberies but would also be tasked with investigating other crimes. There were two detectives assigned to robbery at the time. A dedicated Robbery Squad has been created with five detectives and a sergeant. Since the creation of that squad, our robbery arrests have increased dramatically and statistically robberies have gone down.

Response Times

The utilization of “zone” deployment enabled significant reduction in response times to all calls for service. Under zone deployment, patrol officers are assigned on one of four patrol zones. Sergeants work with patrol officers to manage calls for service in their zones. This approach facilitates problem solving, provides a concentration of personnel in neighborhoods experiencing higher crime level, and allows flexibility in deploying patrol resources to address emerging crime trends. This approach has reduced response times and increased officer safety.

Creation of the Field Training Officer Squad

Patrol now has a full-time training squad that also includes recruit training for pre and post academies. The FTO staff currently has two sergeants with one being designated as a fulltime FTO coordinator, and thirty-two FTOs. One sergeant is assigned to a fulltime FTO squad consisting of eight FTOs. The FTO staff is responsible for pre-academy, post-academy, and lateral-academy training along with field training for all newly hired police officers. The FTO staff monitors all police officers on probation and is often a resource for additional training requirements needed by some probationary officers.

Sex Offender Address Verification Program

The Sex Offender Address verification Program continues to be a success. At the end of 2008 there were 71 level 2 and 3 sex offenders in S.O.A.P., a reduction from last year's numbers. In addition there was a reduction in the number of new sex offenders that registered in Glendale. The continued efforts of unannounced visits to the offender's residents have revealed that 91 sex offenders have moved out of the city and 13 absconded.

Quarterly Community Crime Forums

Quarterly Forums continue to develop efforts to improve the communication between the police department and the community that it serves. The forums are specific to the two patrol divisions and address a variety of topics. They cover an overview of crime as it applies to specific geographic areas; crime prevention; updates on various programs and projects and general questions and comments. Topics covered this past year included auto theft, tagging and gangs, vacant homes and rental property, and 'refused to be a victim'. Community Action Teams (CAT) working in partnership with the State Auto Theft Task Force and the Police Department Auto Theft detectives conducted three vehicle etching events in an effort to combat auto theft in the Glendale. The program educates the public on how to prevent auto theft and includes a free etching of the vehicle identification number on the window of the auto to deter auto theft. The CAT members also worked in partnership with the Target and Cintas Corporations and the Attorney General's Office to conduct two shred events in Glendale to combat identity theft.

Community Advisory Committee

The department's Police Advisory Committees have been established last year to reinforce the department's relationship with the community it serves. Two committees were created, one for both Patrol Divisions. These committees continue to provide vital information for shaping the department's priorities and enhancing the quality and effectiveness of police services.

G.A.I.N.

Getting Arizona Involved in Neighborhoods

G.A.I.N. is an annual event designed to unite neighbors and communities to help create safer neighborhoods. The annual G.A.I.N. event is held in October. In 2008, our G.A.I.N. event hosted 65 neighborhood watch parties in the city. Events include block watch parties, youth activities, information sharing and participation from residents, businesses and the city. The Kickoff Event was held at Saguaro Ranch Park and a mini G.A.I.N. event information booth at Rose Lane Park was sponsored by Parks and Recreation.

Property Crimes' ROP Detail

The General Investigations Unit committed a detective full time to manage the ROP. The objective is to target, for enhanced prosecution, those offenders committing a high rate of felony crimes, including robbery and aggravated assault. Suspects entered into the ROP program are tracked by the ROP detective and if arrested for any additional felonies, the case is transferred to the ROP county attorney for prosecution which may result in enhanced sentencing. In 2008, 109 suspects were entered into the Glendale ROP program. Sixty-three were adjudicated with enhanced sentencing through the ROP Deputy County Attorney.

Special Investigations

The Gang-Fugitive Squad was created as part of the department's Special Investigations Unit. In 2008, this squad made 108 felony arrests and 50% of the fugitives assigned to this unit for apprehension were in custody within 24 hours. Members of the squad also provided gang education training to Westgate Security, West Valley Community Leaders, Citizens Academy, City and Superior Court Judges, Glendale and Peoria School Districts, Communication Specialist and Patrol Officers. The Narcotics Squad, which is also part of the Special Investigations Unit made a high number of arrests and many significant seizures in 2008: Cocaine (430 lbs), Heroin (1.5 lbs), Methamphetamine (301 lbs), Marijuana (6,800 lbs), Firearms (430) and 141 felony arrests.

Advanced Officer Training

The department's Advanced Officer Training (AOT) this year included Hazardous Materials First Responder Operations (FRO) Training. Because GPD is the first law enforcement agency in the State of Arizona and one of only a few in the country to provide this level of training for their officers, professionals from the State Department of Emergency Management and other Arizona police agencies observed our intense two-day course at the Glendale Regional Public Safety Training Center. Four hundred and twelve professionals successfully completed the training from the Glendale Police Department and our leadership within the law enforcement community was further exemplified by the successful completion of this training. In addition to AOT, the Training Unit hosted a total of fifty-seven classes. These advanced classes ranged from remedial drivers training to special investigative techniques, fundamental and advanced incident command systems to train-the-trainer classes resulting in over 1463 hours of training for Glendale Police personnel.

Enhanced Police Radio Communications

With procurement of 410 additional portable radios, there has been an increased channel capacity necessary for additional agency systems being programmed into the radios (Phoenix, Tempe, Tolleson, Goodyear, Avondale, etc.) and include a display and encryption abilities. Ultimately these radios will replace non-display radios in use in the field and will allow those radios to then be used for cache/emergency use. Enhancements also included air card connectivity in patrol cars. Mobile Data Computers in patrol cars have been connected to the data system via a 19-kilobyte private radio modem. With the transition to air cards, the department can now move wireless data at the speed of 700 kilobits. This enhanced capability allows officers to more quickly access information including calls for service, wants/warrants checks, etc. In the future, it provides a sufficient pipeline to stream video and provide other information to the officer on demand.

Tactical Dispatcher Program

A cadre of seven Communications Specialists, Supervisors and Manager have been trained in emergency response to incidents such as SWAT callouts, search warrants, etc. In addition, this team trains with SWAT personnel on a frequent basis. By training with SWAT and being familiar with terminology, equipment and tactics, this team has become much more proficient at handling these types of events. This approach also relieves workload from the 911 Center by ensuring this type of urgent traffic is processed on-site with incident command.

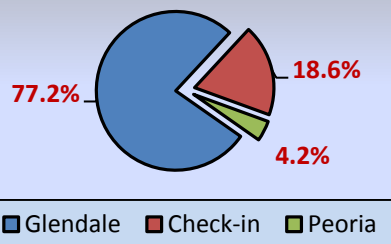

Express Booking Program

Despite depleted staffing levels, Detention continues to process over 40% of all arrests through the Express Booking Program. This program was originally started with contract positions. A detention officer completes the computer entry portion of the arrest allowing the officer to return to patrol duties. Officers save nearly 60 minutes on every arrest made.

Glendale Police Officer's Coalition

The Glendale Police Department is proud of the efforts of the Glendale Police Officers' Coalition. During the year, the members of GPOC were involved in many activities to support the department and the community.

In addition, throughout the year, with cooperation of police management, GPOC has been involved in problem solving areas affecting our members to enhance communications, better working conditions and safety of the officers.

GPOC has also been involved in the continuing effort to have a permanent public safety memorial designed and built in the downtown area, honoring fallen police officers and fire fighters.
