GLENDALE OFFERS FREE CLASS FOR RESIDENTS ON CITY GOVERNMENT

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Are you a new resident to Glendale or would you like to learn more about the inner-workings of city government? Now you can with Glendale University 101, a free class providing a wealth of information on the operations of municipal government. The class is available for residents, business owners and employees who work in Glendale.

Each class highlights key functions of the city including, but not limited to, finance, library, police and fire services. Most classes will be held at the Glendale Adult Center, located at 5970 W. Brown St. The free classes will be held Thursday evenings from 6-8:30 p.m. The 10-session course begins on August 18 and ends October 28. In order to graduate from the course, students must attend at least eight of the 10 classes. Graduates can continue with the program with classes such as Homeland Security, Marketing and Economic Development.

Early registration is encouraged, as only a limited number of seats are available. Registration for Glendale University 101 is due by August 13.

To register, visit www.glendaleaz.com/education and click on “Glendale University” to print out an application or call 623- 930-2868 to receive an application by mail or fax.
